Description

Aura is a filigree, round fireplace from Keilbach. Especially the stand area is designed unobtrusively. So this fire bowl seems to almost float.

The fireplace consists of 3 mm thick sheet steel, which is dark and bright in its original condition. This corrodes in the course of time to patina and the fireplace receives so its individual, rust-coloured patina. Aura can stand outdoors all year round without any problems. Even soot, ash and grease cannot harm the deliberately rusty appearance of the fireplace. However, the corroded material leaves traces on the surface.

The fireplace has a diameter of 80 cm, a height of 20 cm and a weight of 16 kg.

A holder for the barbecue rust is already pre-mounted on the fire bowl. The barbecue rust is simply plugged into this when required. The barbecue rust can be swivelled and is infinitely height-adjustable.
